

The Misulonads Memo

September 16, 2022

Our Learning

Reading/Writing - In reading, we worked on building our reading stamina, conferring, setting reading goals, and celebrating our readers. We will start our first unit next week. In writing, we have started a personal narrative. Students are writing about a time they attended a special event.

Math - We are hard at work on our addition and subtraction unit. Students should be using a strategy that works best for them. Students should practice their facts each night.

Science - This week, we finished our unit on Changing Land, and started Natural Processes. Next week, students will be completing a project based on our learning in all 3 science units.

Treat of the Week

Each week, we will learn more about our Classroom Family.

Week of 9/19: Vivien
Week of 9/26: Sean
